“ Mike was a good friend at Hoover then at Grandveiw. After I moved to Alaska we continued to write for a while then our circles of life separated. Mike was very important to me learning the reality of equality rather than just the theory. Those lessons were very important in my future professional life. I find now that we were only separated by space.
Thank you Mike for being my friend.

“ Mike was always positive and happy. He was so proud of his children and interested in mine. We had many talks about what our kids were up to. I am so sorry to hear of his passing. Such a sweet, sweet man. I will miss him.

“ There isn't anything I can say that hasn't been said already, but Michael was a great friend to everyone around him. He looked for the best in everyone, and his smile was contagious. In a business (the media) where everything gets extremely tense, Michael did what he could to work with everyone and had the utmost patience with those that had no patience. I had lots of laughs working with Michael, and he was great to work with at KCCI. He was one of the first to welcome me to KCCI when I wasn't sure how things were going to work out for me. Michael, thanks for the memories, but knowing that it'll be a while before I see you again, it will in turn be a while before I smile again. But the memories of you will sure help me along the way.

“ I'll always remember Mike's positive attitude, friendliness and patience. Never saw the guy get mad or heard him say a bad word about anyone. I will miss him.

“ Mike and I worked studio cameras together at KCCI on Saturday and Sunday mornings. He was a great guy to work with, and I always looked forward to working with him. He always had a smile, and coffee made when I came in. He was also the fastest person I ever saw change out a bad studio lightbulb. We worked together for a couple of years, and I always looked up to him. He loved to talk about his family, as he was very proud of them. I will forever see and miss his smile the most. - Greg Schaaf

“ I worked with Mike at KCCI. He was always fun to work with and he was a great friend to me. We liked to talk about movies and going to the old single screen movie theaters in Des Moines when we were younger. He was always there to cheer me up when I was having a bad day--he always had a smile on his face and was good with the jokes to lighten the air. I'll really miss Michael. He is with God now.

“ A bright light in Des Moines has moved on. Michael was one of my very favorite colleagues at KCCI. He always had a smile for everyone, not matter how early the newscast. He talked with pride about his family and his sense of humor was wonderful. My first reaction to the news of his passing was -- not possible. Because God wouldn't take such a good man and father away from a world that needs him so much. But God has other plans for Michael, and they must be pretty amazing to warrant his departure from our world. My love to his family. He will be missed.

“ I remember the pride he had in his daughters and his dismay at the portrayal of fathers in sitcoms like Home Improvement. I particularly remember him telling us his horror at realizing the woman one of the guys at work wanted him to "check out" was Allison. Oh the nightmare of being a father with such gorgeous girls! Going to miss you Mike-- hope you're in a place where you can hang back and get a manicure while sharing a pint with friends!
