“ I don't even know what to say. I'm still in utter disbelief. Getting that phone call was one of the hardest calls I've ever gotten. I just sat in silence for a few seconds hoping what I had heard was a nightmare and not reality.

I remember spending hours with you talking about life's trials and tribulations, along with the happy moments. You brought many blessings into my life that I can never thank you enough for. Please continue to watch over all of us. Fly high

“ My beautiful girl, I will always love you. I will miss our long talks and your laugh. I know life wasn't easy for you. I know your heart was so full of pain and your mind was always battling demons. I hope you have found peace now. Know that you will never be forgotten that you were loved! Spread your wings and fly with your daddy now! ❤️

“ Ohhh babe, I'm just torn with sadness hearing you're gone. It's really had me feeling some type of way since last week. I'll miss hearing you call my name and give me a big hug when I come to your job. Please guide Charlee from above and I'll be checking in to talk to you often babe.

“ I'm sad that I won't hear your voice anymore, I'm sad that you won't get to see Charlee grow up, I'm sad that you struggled with demons that took your life. You will be missed by your family and true friends that would never go and leave you like that. I'm sorry that there are evil people in this world. You're with your daddy now and he will protect you! ”
